

ABOUT THE MAY AWAKENING DAY

Apr 30, 2015

My Dear Friends of the Evo Revo Community

The 12th of May is rapidly approaching, and our Awakening Day Outreach Project for May should be discussed, yes?

May is "Share with Others Month" in the Evolution Revolution. People don't become involved in revolutions unless there is a central purpose, a core theme, and that is what we are clear about here. So we are inviting all Evolution Revolution members to share with everyone in their personal email list our own central purpose and core theme: We seek to propose a New Cultural Story for Humanity. It is as simple as that.

We want to place before our species, worldwide, a New Idea about Who We Are, Why We Are Here, Who and What God Is, and How We Can Achieve our True Purpose in Being Alive in the Physical Universe.

Our observation about life as we are now living on the planet is that

1. our current ideas around these four topics are mistaken and grievously so. The errors in our thinking about this are so serious that they are now threatening the physical survival of our species on Earth.

We are killing each other every day because of our misunderstandings. We are killing other species. We are killing our environment. And the supreme irony is that we are doing all of this because we've decided that this is what we must do in order to survive.

We are literally ending our way of life in our flailing attempts to preserve our way of life.

And we don't even see ourselves doing it.

Or, worse yet, we do see ourselves doing it, and we don't care because we think it's this or nothing. We're gambling the farm. We're putting all our chips on the table in a high stakes game. And the sad part is, we don't have to.

We don't have to hurt our species, hurt other species, and hurt our planet in order to save ourselves, or give ourselves what we say we want. We can have it all the life of which every human being has ever dreamed without doing anything hurtful to anyone least of all, ourselves.

Yet what it will take to do all this without hurting ourselves is a revolution in our thinking. It will take revolutionary ideas about Who We Are, Why We Are Here, Who and What God Is, and How We Can Achieve our True Purpose in Being Alive in the Physical Universe.

As always, the question is: Who shall propose such new ideas?

The members of the Evolution Revolution have decided: WE WILL!

(Unless we won't. We'll take a look at this decision in the days ahead.)

Lovingly, Neale.
